-Workshops, Masterclasses, Clinics, Residences, Private Teaching.

Jean-Michel is a NYU Steinhardt faculty member since 2006: private lessons (piano and other instruments), ensemble classes and improvisation workshops, co-director of NYU Summer Jazz Improv Workshop. Jean-Michel is also teaching for the New School in NYC, as well as privately, and has given numerous workshops and masterclasses all over the world in the last 10 years.

"Besides being a brilliant pianist and a world class musician Jean-Michel is an outstanding music educator who has become a very important member of our NYU faculty. Many students have told me that he is a great teacher and that they have enjoyed their studies with him. I can highly recommend him for masterclasses and performances at your school." - David Pietro, Music Assistant Professor of Jazz Studies at NYU

"Finding a performer of this level who equally has the ability to impart knowledge, as well as guide and support students is extremely rare." - Nicholas Marks, Australia, private student (piano)

"After only few lessons with him, I felt like I was reborn musically." - Dimitrije Vasiljevic, Berklee School of Music, NYU student (piano)

Those lessons I had with him will stay in my mind for a long time." - Michael Valeanu, New School student (guitar)
